The Best of the Old—
the Cream of the New

Mrs. C. G. Whiting

GREETINGS 1935

We are proud to submit our new list of Bearded Iris for your approval. Many very fine new varieties have been added to our collection, and you are cordially invited to come and see them during blooming season. We list only those varieties which we grow successfully in our own garden. We also grow many varieties of Beardless Iris and other species, which may be listed next year. Our pools and rock gardens are of great interest to garden visitors. We are glad to greet old friends and new acquaintances, so come and see us.

PLEASE READ CAREFULLY BEFORE ORDERING

CULTURE

THE BEARDED IRIS thrives in any well drained soil in an open sunny location. If good drainage is not natural in your garden, iris beds may be raised a few inches to insure the drainage of surface water away from the roots. Iris should be planted carefully with feeding roots spread, and earth well firmed around and barely covering the rhizomes.

WE RECOMMEND JULY PLANTING. The plants are then fully matured and in the best condition for moving. Many years' experience has shown that roots moved at this time become thoroughly established, winter well, and usually bloom the following spring.
